Syracuse Honors Research Journal

2023

The Crown is a new Syracuse University undergraduate research journal, edited by and for Honors students, that was created to provide a platform for their legacy and work to live on.

Born out of a fall 2023 Honors course dedicated to journal production, The Crown seeks to highlight the academic work of students from all disciplines in one central location. The journal includes a variety of pieces from technical projects to analytical essays, all of which are open access and peer reviewed.
