CONCURRENT ENROLLMENT REVIEW (ISSN 2994-5720, Online) is the first independent, open source, peer-reviewed journal dedicated to research in the field of dual/concurrent enrollment. Concurrent Enrollment Review (CER), published biannually and hosted by Syracuse University Libraries on Berkeley Electronic Press’s Digital Commons platform, serves a variety of functions for the broad array of constituents and institutions that comprise the field of dual/concurrent enrollment by aiming to build community through active readership, scholarship development, publication and peer review.

Attribution and Usage
CER is distributed and licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0) license. This license means that the licensor (Concurrent Enrollment Review) cannot revoke these freedoms as long as the license terms are followed. Thus, users are free to Share, copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format, under the following terms:

- Attribution — You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use.
- NonCommercial — You may not use the material for commercial purposes.
- NoDerivatives — If you remix, transform, or build upon the material, you may not distribute the modified material.
- No additional restrictions — You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits.

If you have any questions about CER’s attribution and usage policy, contact the editors at cer@syr.edu

Editorial Procedure
In keeping with the interdisciplinary spirit, the journal peer review system in which reviewers are drawn from disciplines relevant to the article itself. These reviewers are encouraged to provide substantive, constructive feedback for each submission.
