Introduction

This report examines client and volunteer satisfaction with the services provided by the Franciscan Collaborative Ministries (FCM) Legal Clinic. This report was requested by FCM at the Assisi Center on the North Side of Syracuse. The purpose of the client survey is to address client concerns. The purpose of the volunteer survey is to continue the high retention rate of volunteers and to create a network among the volunteers to improve services for future and current clients.

Methods

The data contained in this report were collected by implementing two different surveys, one for clients of the clinic and one for volunteer attorneys of the clinic. The research team used two different methods to administer the surveys. The client surveys were administered at the clinic during the clinic's hours of operation from Sept. 25-Oct. 11, 2007. The volunteer surveys were faxed to the attorney's law firms from Oct. 2-9, 2007. A total of 24 client and 11 volunteer surveys have been completed.

Findings- Client Survey

1. 83% of respondents have visited the Legal Clinic one to three times. (n= 24)
2. 26% of respondents were referred to the Legal Clinic by Legal Aid. (n=23)
3. 63% of respondents either drove themselves or were driven to the clinic. (n= 24)
4. 50% of respondents were very satisfied with the services provided by the clinic. (n=16)
5. 52% of respondents preferred to have a scheduled appointment rather than a walk- in. (n= 21)
6. 83% of respondents would like the clinic to have extended hours. (n=18)
7. 60% of respondents prefer the extended hours to be in the morning. (n=15)
8. 95% of respondents would recommend the Legal Clinic to others. (n=22)
9. 62% of respondents have not used a service similar to the Legal Clinic. (n=21)

10. 51% of respondents who have used similar legal programs say the Franciscan Legal Clinic is better. (n=8)

Findings- Volunteer Survey

1) 73% of respondents volunteer between zero and two hours at the Legal Clinic per month. (n=11)

2) 55% of respondents advise six to eight clients per day. (n=11)

3) 63% of respondents have volunteered at the clinic for three or more years. (n=11)

4) 64% of respondents are very satisfied with the operation of the clinic. (n=11)

5) 45% of respondents say periodic meetings would be useful for the volunteers. (n=11)

6) 72% of respondents are willing to help clients over the phone. (n=11)

a) 100% of respondents say the walk-in system is preferred over having clients make appointments in advance. (n=11)

b) 100% of respondents say only one volunteer attorney is needed each time the clinic is open. (n=10)

7) 60% of respondents say that keeping client records is unimportant. (n=10)

8) 86% of respondents say there is no need for the clinic to have extended hours. (n=7)

9) 57% of respondents are willing to volunteer more hours if the clinic extends its hours. (n=7)

10) 75% of respondents are willing to contribute one to three more hours of volunteering. (n=4)

11) 88% of respondents do not know other attorneys who would be interested in volunteering at the Legal Clinic. (n=8)

12) 54% of respondents say a directory would be useful for networking and client referral purposes. (n=11)

13) 63% of respondents have taken on or referred cases from the Legal Clinic. (n=11)

Introduction

The Franciscan Collaborative Ministries (FCM) is a religious non-profit organization that is working to revitalize the North Side of Syracuse by offering various social entrepreneurship initiatives. The organization has also created and now maintains a collection of community services to help meet the increasing needs of the neighborhood. One of the services offered is the Franciscan Legal Clinic, which was established to provide free legal assistance, advice and referrals for those who cannot afford to hire an attorney.

The clinic has been in operation for several years. This report examines client and volunteer satisfaction with the clinic. The information collected addresses client concerns, provides information for the creation of a network to improve services for clients and will help to maintain the high retention rate of the volunteers.

Methods

Data for this study were collected by the research team during the clinic's operating hours. The data were gathered from the implementation of two surveys, a client survey and a volunteer survey. The client survey was administered at the clinic from Sept. 25-Oct. 11, 2007. The volunteer survey was administered via fax from Oct. 2-9, 2007. Both surveys were piloted from Sept. 25-27, 2007.

Client Survey

Instrument Design

The client survey was designed by the research team with the help of Sister Dolores Bush, the director of the North Side Ministries and the Franciscan Legal Clinic. The research team piloted the survey (Appendix I) at the clinic from Sept. 25-27, 2007. Based on the responses, the team made changes and the final version (Appendix II) was designed on Oct. 1, 2007. The following questions were changed after the survey pilot was conducted:

- In question number 16, "What is your race?" responses of "Latino" and "Please Identify" were added. Based on the responses received from the survey pilot the research team made the changes to identify a wider range of the races and ethnicities in the Syracuse area.
- In question number 15, "What is your age range?" responses were changed from "Under 35", "36-50", "51-65", and "66 and over" to "Under 17", "18-21", "22-25", "26-30", "31-40", "41-50", "51-60", and "61 and older". Based on the responses from the piloted survey the research team felt that the new response choices covered the age ranges of respondents in more depth.

Target Population and Sample

The target population is made up of the clients who visited the legal clinic during the time the survey was being administered. For various reasons, such as inaccurate records and the unknown number of clients per day, the exact target population is unknown. However, it is estimated to be 30 clients. The sample size is 24.

Data Collection

The client survey information was collected at the clinic from Sept. 25-Oct. 11, 2007. The survey was implemented during the operating hours of the clinic, from 2-4 p.m. on Tuesdays and 6-8 p.m. on Thursdays. Respondents had the option of filling out a survey at the site, or if needed, have the survey read to them and recorded by the survey administrator. Out of the 24 respondents, 21 completed the survey on their own while three had the survey read to them and recorded.

Quality of the Data

It is not known if the findings in this report are representative of the target population. This is because the target population is unknown due to various reasons, such as inaccurate records and the number of clients per day is unknown.

Data Analysis

A codebook and workbook were created for the survey data in Microsoft Excel. To ensure that data entry was accurate, members of the research team paired up during the data entry process. One member read the data while the other person entered the data in the spreadsheet, which was then proofed.

Data Presentation

The data for the client survey are represented in the form of tables and charts in this report. Open-ended responses are grouped into categories and can be found in Appendix VII.

Volunteer Survey

Instrument Design

The volunteer survey was designed by the research team with the help of Sister Dolores. The research team piloted the survey (Appendix III) at the clinic between Sept. 25-27, 2007. Based on the responses, the team made changes and the final version (Appendix IV) was designed on Oct. 1, 2007. The following questions were changed in the pilot survey:

- In question number 16, “What is your race?”, “Latino” and “Please Identify” were added. Based on the responses received from the survey pilot the research team made the changes to identify a wider range of the races and ethnicities in the Syracuse area.
- In question number 15, “What is your age range?” responses were changed from “Under 35”, “36-50”, “51-65”, and “66 and over” to “Under 17”, “18-21”, “22-25”, “26-30”, “31-40”, “41-50”, “51-60”, and “61 and older”. Based on the responses from the piloted survey the research team felt that the new response choices covered the age ranges of respondents in more depth.

There was a discrepancy over whether, in the survey and report, the research team should use the term “client” or use a different term such as “walk-in” to describe those seeking legal assistance. This was because of ways in which the term was used in the open ended responses. In the suggestions received from the volunteers, one respondent said,

Do not refer to walk-ins as ‘clients.’ They are not clients, and that has a specific legal relationship connotation and meaning that we specifically do not wish to adopt as legal referral volunteers!!! If an attorney volunteer wants to take the next step with a retainer, then that person is a “client” of that attorney, not Franciscan Legal Referral Clinic.

In contrast, two other volunteers used the term “client” when referring to those seeking legal assistance. The research team decided to use the term “client” since that was the term Sister Dolores and the majority of volunteers used.

Target Population and Sample

The target population is the 14 attorneys who volunteer at the legal clinic. The sample size is 11 volunteers, or 79% percent of the target population. Of the 14 total volunteers, 11 are male and three are female. 100% of the attorneys in the sample identify themselves as Caucasian. The sample is highly representative of the target population.

Data Collection

The survey information was collected from Oct. 2-9, 2007. The method of contact was via fax. Respondents were asked to return the completed survey to the Community Benchmarks office at Syracuse University within one week.

Quality of the Data

This survey data is considered representative since there was a 79% response rate. The male respondents represent 79% of the target population and the female respondents represent 21% of the target population. The sample is 82% male and 18% female and is highly representative of the target population. The volunteer respondents consist of one retired attorney, one judge and nine practicing attorneys.

Data Analysis

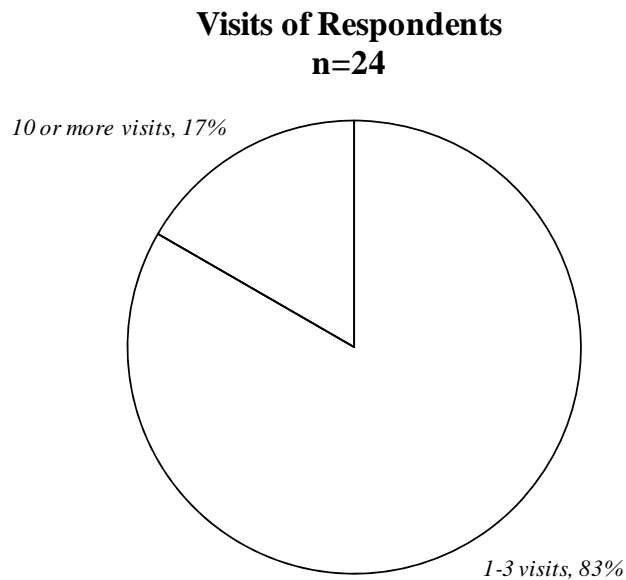

A codebook and workbook were created for the survey data in Microsoft Excel. To ensure that data entry was accurate, members of the research team paired up during the data entry process. One member read the data while the other person entered the data in the spreadsheet, which was then proofed.

Data Presentation

The data for the volunteer survey is represented in tables and charts in this report. Open-ended responses are grouped into categories and can be found in Appendix VIII.

Client Survey Findings

Recommendations

Based on the information provided by clients and volunteers, researchers are making the following recommendations to the Franciscan Legal Clinic.

1. A directory of the volunteer attorneys would be useful to everyone who provides support to the clinic. This directory would be circulated to all the volunteers so that they could easily contact each other to converse about repeat clients and possibly make client referrals, request for their scheduled time, if necessary, or anything else they may like to discuss.
2. Make the clinic more handicapped accessible. This could include a ramp to get up through the entrance and chairs in the waiting room that are higher off the ground, making it easier for people to get up and down. This is especially important for senior citizens, who comprise 32% of the sample population.
3. Extend the clinic's operating hours. An overwhelming number of clients, 83%, indicate that this would better assist their needs and the needs of others. It may be difficult for some to visit the clinic during the current operating hours, which are two days a week in two hour blocks.

1	Always try to follow the straight path! Did St. Francis of Assisi say that?
2	I think it is fine though additional lawyers would make it even better. As would more days. The lawyers at the clinic are there because they truly want to help people. I've had five attorneys in five years and all they did was take $200,000 in estate funds. I and my two children have experienced perjury, corruption of justice and altering of a legal contract. I also must say that Dick Storto should NEVER be allowed to corrupt the minds of young law students. He is "brightly corrupt" much like Roger Scott who was finally dis barred 25 years ago.
3	Well if you were add more days an hours that would really be great, and also a lot of people in Syracuse do not know this place even exist so it would help to advertise more, so that you can help more people. Thank you.
