Dear Reader:

We hope that the first three issues of Syracuse Scholar have provided stimulating reading for you.

We thought you would like to know that response to the journal has been most favorable. Our first issue received a Special Merit Award from the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE). The first two issues, in fact, have been praised by alumni in different parts of the country and by eminent people in the academic and publishing worlds. All have expressed enthusiasm for the creation of this distinguished journal that reflects the variety and excellence of scholarly life at Syracuse University.

The cost of publication for the first issues has been assumed fully by Syracuse University. We look forward to the day when the Scholar will be self-supporting—at least in part. But in order for this to happen, we must appeal to you for help. May we ask you for a donation? Ten dollars will cover the cost of two issues per year; however, your donation may be as large or small as you wish to make it. Any contribution will be fully appreciated. And, of course, it is tax-deductible.

Your generous help will enable us to continue producing a university journal of the highest quality.

Sincerely yours,

Paul Archambault
Editor

I enclose a tax-deductible donation (check made out to Syracuse University) for $_____ to help Syracuse Scholar meet its costs.
