Syracuse Scholar publishes two issues annually.

Syracuse Scholar invites submissions from present or past members of the Syracuse University faculty, alumni of the graduate schools, and distinguished visitors to the campus. The editors are interested in essays on matters of scholarly or public interest, scientific articles, discussions of controversial issues, poetry, and short fiction. Artists are invited to submit original work.

The Chicago Manual of Style (University of Chicago Press) and Strunk and White, Elements of Style (Macmillan) should be consulted as guides to the presentation of written material.

Art submissions (including photography) should be unpublished work intended for the print medium. Whenever possible, reproductions will be made directly from the original art.

Queries and submissions should be addressed to the Editor, Syracuse Scholar, 220 Sims 3, Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York 13244-5610.

Syracuse Scholar wishes to thank the following members of the Syracuse University faculty and friends of the university for their generous assistance as manuscript reviewers:

Paul Archambault	Christiane Moloney	Stephen Webb
