

IN MEMORIAM

Syracuse University Chancellor Emeritus William Pearson Tolley

1900-1995

It is with deepest regret that Syracuse University Magazine notes the passing of Syracuse University Chancellor Emeritus William Pearson Tolley, who died January 26, 1996, at the age of 95 at his home in Syracuse.

A 1922 graduate of SU, Tolley returned to the University two decades later to lead the institution through its greatest period of growth. The Tolley years (1942-1969) saw dramatic increases in the University's gross assets, from $15 million to $200 million; endowments, from $4.5 million to more than $56 million; and enrollment, from a low of 3,800 during World War II to more than 24,000, with graduate enrollment jumping from 400 to 8,000. During Tolley's administration, more buildings were erected than during any period in the University's history.

"William Pearson Tolley was a giant in the history of Syracuse University," says Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw. "He combined great measures of commitment and courage with a talent for seeing the future. Thus he was able time after time to persuade others to join him in preparing the University for that future. Our success today rests on the foundation he built through his great love for Syracuse."

John Robert Greene G'83, professor of history and communications at Cazenovia College, has authored Syracuse University: The Tolley Years, 1942-1969, a book on Tolley's SU career to be published this spring by SU Press. An excerpt from this book will appear in the Summer 1996 issue of Syracuse University Magazine.

Memorial gifts may be made to the William Pearson Tolley Library Endowment Fund. Checks should be made payable to Syracuse University and sent to Cathy Killian, Syracuse University, Development Office, 820 Comstock Avenue, Syracuse, New York 13244-5040.

1996

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY LACROSSE

SCHEDULE

Regular Season

March 23.....	Towson State University
March 27.....	Hobart College
March 30.....	at Brown University
April 6.....	Loyola University
April 10.....	at Cornell University
April 13.....	at Rutgers University
April 20.....	at University of Pennsylvania
April 28.....	University of Massachusetts

Post Season

May 11-12.....	NCAA 1st Round at Cornell
May 18-19.....	NCAA 2nd Round at Rutgers
May 25-27.....	NCAA Championship at College Park, MD

For ticket information call the Carrier Dome ticket office at (315) 443-2121