

Facing page: Los Angeles jazz vocalist Barbara Morrison headlined the Syracuse “Jazz in the Square” cabaret concert, co-sponsored by the Central New York Jazz Arts Foundation and Syracuse University. The cabaret showcased “Stars of Tomorrow,” featuring some of SU’s finest vocal talent coached by Morrison in a master’s singing class.

Below, left: Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim ’66, G’73 earned the 750th victory of his tenure as head coach when Syracuse defeated San Diego State, 80-64, in the National Invitation Tournament on March 19. At the conclusion of the season, he was tied for fourth among active Division I coaches in wins and was tied for 12th overall.

Below, top right: Eighteen SU students—seven Muslim, six Christian and five Jewish—spent Spring Break traveling to Turkey to study how people of different faiths have co-existed in the region throughout history. The idea for the trip—“Three Faiths, One Humanity: Interfaith Travel Study Experience to Turkey”—was conceived by the Rev. Thomas V. Wolfe G’02, dean of SU’s Hendricks Chapel. Their itinerary included a visit to the Suleymaniye Mosque in Istanbul.

Below, bottom right: Norman Ornstein, a resident scholar at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research and an election analyst for CBS News, offered his views on current politics in his University Lectures presentation: “Governing in an Era of Tribal Politics: The Twilight of the Bush Administration and the Election Ahead.”

