

growth

Facing page and below: With the driving beat of the SU student group, The Brazilian Drummers, and a shower of orange confetti, Syracuse University launched the public phase of the most ambitious capital campaign in the institution's history. Held in a vibrantly decorated Goldstein Auditorium in the Hildegarde and J. Myer Schine Student Center, the celebration capped a historic day in which all of the University's volunteer leadership, members of the Board of Trustees, and the advisory boards in the schools, colleges and units, gathered in one location. The goal of The Campaign for Syracuse University is $1 billion, of which more than $509 million was raised before the announcement of the public phase. In the photo, Robert Miron '59, member of the Board of Trustees, John Chapple '75, chair-elect of the board, board chair John Couri '63, Chancellor Nancy Cantor, and campaign co-chairs Howie Phanstiel '70, G'71, Melanie Gray L'81, and Deryck Palmer '78, applaud the announcement of the funds raised to date. A display of lights across campus showcased University milestones as well as campaign graphics designed by VPA graduate Adrienne Weiss '71, CEO of Adrienne Weiss Corporation of Chicago.

